Short title and commencement

6. This Act is called the Children’s Second Amendment Act, 2016, and comes into operation on a date determined by the President by proclamation in the Gazette.

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE CHILDREN'S SECOND AMENDMENT BILL, 2015

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 In C and Others v Department of Health and Social Development, Gauteng and others 2012 (2) SA 208 (CC), the Constitutional Court confirmed the order of the High Court declaring sections 151 and 152 of the Children's Act, 2005 (Act No. 38 of 2005) ("Children's Act"), unconstitutional, which provides for the removal of a child to a form of temporary safe care with or without a court order, to the extent that it provides for a child to be removed from family care by state officials and placed in temporary safe care, but does not provide for the child to be brought before the children's court for automatic review. The Court found that the Act lacked safety mechanisms to deal with a situation where a social worker or a police officer wrongly removed a child or where the children's court makes an order based on incorrect information. To give effect to the decision of the Constitutional Court, the Children's Second Amendment Bill ("Bill"), seeks to amend the Act to provide that the removal of a child to a temporary safe care without a court order be placed before the children's court for review before the expiry of the next court day and for an automatic review and that an interim order granted in respect of the removal of a child to temporary safe care be placed before the children's court before the expiry of the next court date and that the parent, guardian or care-giver be present in court.
- 1.2 The Bill also seeks to extend the definition of adoption social worker; to insert new definitions; to provide for the provincial head of social development to transfer a child or a person from one form of alternative care to another form of alternative care; and to provide that an application for a child to remain in alternative care beyond the age of 18 years, must be submitted before the end of the year in which the relevant child reaches the age of 18 years.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

- 2.1 The purpose of the Bill is to give effect to children's rights as provided for in section 28 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 ("Constitution"), to align the Act with other legislation and to give effect to the Constitutional Court decision in C and Others v Department of Health and Social Development, Gauteng and Others 2012 (2) SA 208 (CC).
- 2.2 The Bill seeks to give additional functions to the provincial head of social development in respect of certain specified matters; and to extend the period in which a child may be placed in foster care. The reality is that some children in alternative care, due to unforeseen circumstances, fail to complete primary education before the date on which the child attains the age of majority. Secondly some children in alternative care require vocational training, higher education or further education and training. These circumstances require that the child be retained in alternative care until he or she completes his or her education or attains the age of 21 whichever occurs first. The Act does not empower the head of social development in provinces to transfer children or persons from one form of alternative care to another and this presents a challenge where a need arises for a child or person to be transferred. The Bill seeks to address these practical challenges which have been brought about through the implementation of the Act.

3. CLAUSE BY CLAUSE EXPLANATION

Ad Clause 1: Amendment of section 1

- 3.1 Clause 1 of the Bill seeks to extend the definition of adoption social worker and to insert the definitions of "college", "further education and training", "grade 12", and "higher education".

Ad Clause 2: Amendment of section 151

- 3.2 Clause 2 seeks to amend the Act by providing for a presiding officer in the children's court to also issue an interim order for the temporary safe care of the child.
- 3.3 This clause also seeks to insert subsection (2A), which requires the presiding officer to also issue an order directing that the interim order be placed before the children's court before the expiry of the next court day following the interim order, for the confirmation or setting aside of such interim order and also to allow for the child concerned and the parent, guardian or care-giver to be present in court where possible. The amendment seeks to give effect to the judgment in C and Others v Department of Health and Social Development, Gauteng and Others 2012 (2) SA 208 (CC), where the Constitutional Court held that removing a child from a parent and placing such a child in temporary safe care with or without a court order and without allowing for an automatic judicial review of such a removal, was unconstitutional.

Ad Clause 3: Amendment of section 152

- 3.4 Clause 3 seeks to amend section 152(2)(a) of the Act by inserting "designated" to change "social worker" to "designated social worker". This seeks to provide that the designated social worker must ensure that the matter is placed before the children's court for review before the expiry of the next court date, and ensure that the child concerned and, where reasonably possible, the parent, guardian or care-giver, as the case may be, are present in the children's court.

Ad Clause 4: Amendment of section 171

- 3.5 Clause 4 seeks to amend section 171 of the Act by empowering the provincial head of social development, by notice in writing, to transfer a child or a person from one form of alternative care to another. The Act as it stands prevents practical difficulties when there is a need to transfer a child or a person due to changed circumstances. The proposed amendment will empower the provincial head of social development to transfer a child or person from a restrictive form of alternative care to a less restrictive form of alternative care.

Ad Clause 5: Amendment of section 176

- 3.6 Clause 5 of the Bill seeks to amend section 176 of the Act by extending the provisions of section 176(2) to also allow a person, acting on behalf of a person placed in alternative care as a child, to make an application to allow that child to remain in alternative care until the end of the year in which the person in alternative care reached the age of 21 years.
- 3.7 Clause 5 also seeks to amend section 176 (2)(b) of the Act by replacing the words "education and training" with the words "grade 12, higher education and further education and training" so as to clarify the intention of the law and also in order to empower the provincial head of social development to extend an alternative care placement in respect of persons who are still doing their grade 12, higher education or further education and training.

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 6.1 The State Law Advisers and the Department of Social Development are of the opinion that this Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure prescribed by section 76 of the Constitution, since the contents of the Bill, in a substantial measure, deals with “Welfare services”, which is a functional area of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence listed in Part A of Schedule 4 to the Constitution. According to section 76(3) of the Constitution a Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by either section 76(1) or section 76(2) if it falls within a functional area listed under Schedule 4 to the Constitution.
- 6.2 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
